Description:

More people come to faith through a meaningful relationship with a Christian friend or relative than all other reasons combined!

Yet . . . most Christians have few, if any, close friends who are non-Christian. And, not surprisingly, most non-Christians have few or no close friends who are Christ-followers.

This webinar presents a refreshing way for churches to help members develop meaningful connections with people outside the church and Christian faith. These friendships become genuine and intimate bonds that can help meet the relational needs deep within all of us. As these relationships grow, they often become "bridges of God" which provide the opportunity for many unchurched people to experience God's love through the love of God's people.

Presenter:

Charles “Chip” Arn is a widely traveled speaker, an author, professor, and consultant. Chip Arn is a well-respected authority in congregational health and evangelism. Dr. Arn is the president of Church Growth Institute.
