God’s Quad Quartet

God’s Quad Quartet was formed in the 1980s following a high school minstrel show. Some of the men who sang enjoyed it so much that they decided to begin a quartet. They picked a name, bought some equipment and began to sing at some local churches. This Southern Gospel quartet consisted of a bass, baritone, tenor and a lead singer.

Many personnel changes have occurred over the years with the last original member, Jack Jackson from Fairmont, West Virginia, retiring in 2007. Today’s members include Jay Clark (lead singer from Salem, OH) who has been with the quartet for 21 years and has taught high school for 30 years; Mark Burcaw (baritone from North Benton, OH) who has been with the quartet for 21 years and is a trained paramedic; Lee Kurtz (bass from Columbiana, OH) who has been with the quartet for 7 years and is a retired mason; and Becky Vignon (tenor from Washingtonville, OH) who has been with the quartet for 5 years and is an optician.

Over the years God’s Quad has produced and recorded many different projects in various studios. Their CDs and cassettes are available at some religious book stores, at their concerts and directly from the singers themselves.

God’s Quad has performed in Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and West Virginia and has been featured in the local newspapers. The quartet has performed and opened for many nationally known Southern Gospel groups including The Kingsmen, The Anchormen, Greater Vision, Heaven Bound, Ivan Parker, Doug Oldman and Men of Music.

God’s Quad sings at church services, local fairs, festivals, banquets, dinners, concerts and other gatherings. Their Southern Gospel sound with smooth 4-part harmony, mixed with humor, laughter and the spreading of the gospel of Jesus Christ, continues to delight, entertain and drive an uplifting powerful message of the Good News to all who hear them.

God has truly opened doors and has continued to bless this quartet over the years.
